

Port Regulations

Responsibility

- a. The tenant is responsible for all damage of any kind which is acted by him- or herself.
- b. The boat/ship must be insured and stays at own expense and risk at the marina.
- c. The marina is not in anyway responsible for damage/missing/theft of any kind of the ship, gear or parts whatever de cause. All loose parts, trailers etc. have be lodged with a registration sticker. All objects that are NOT registered can be removed from our area.
- d. The marina is not in anyway responsible for damage on vehicles. People on the premises and the standing buildings must practice order, peace, and cleanliness and observe safety of all kind.

Everybody on the premises must listen to the directions of the marina crew. When you are sanding, varnish of painting, reflect this with you neighbours. So there won't be disputes afterwards.

Marina Rijnsburg reserves the right to rent out the box at your absence or holiday.

Don'ts:

- Do not put the ropes between the scaffold boards.
- With waste (also garbage), oil, bilgewater etc. polluting the premises.
- Working on the boat without any ground protection.
- Welding, grinding, burning and other flammable activities.
- Work done on the boat by third parties without consent of the Marina.
- Open fire on the premises.
- Not properly moor the vessel and leaving it untended state.
- Leaving properties outside the boat.
- Dogs running loose.
- During the winter storage gas cylinders on board of the board or leaving them on the premises.
- Smoking and open fire in the boat storage.
- Driving fast on the premises.
- Waterproof sanding of the boats on the premises and spraying the boat.
- Dry sanding without dust extraction.
- Working on the boat with heavy winds.
- Using not approved antifouling.
- Sanding or painting boat that is in the water without permission of the Marina.
- Putting the boat for sail at an external mediation agency.

Because of strict environment controls, pollution can lead to reporting it to agencies. And incise we have to clean the disorder, than we have to charge you for it.

From the 1st of April till 1st of October we have summer storage. And from the 1st of October till 1st of April we have winter storage. When object stays longer in storage, we can charge you the day price.

The summer box reservation will be extended without any consolation. In these conditions also stands the increasing of our prices. Summer box must be terminated three months in front before the seasons starts (for the first of April), in writing.

Payment

The renter must pay the invoice before the maturity, if not he will be considered in default. All costs will be charge with legal interest. The letter is in his right to keep the property until all costs and interest is paid.

By using storage at Marina Rijnsburg the renter is informed of the regulations and agrees.